1. School Year

- 1.1 The Traditional School Year in Alberta is defined as a school year running from the end of August/beginning of September to the end of June operating five (5) days a week with breaks for Christmas and Easter. Provincial guidelines for the school year and day are specified in the School Act (Sections 56, 97) and the Guide to Education.
- 1.2 An Alternate School Year can be defined as a school calendar that is modified from five days a week and/or spanning from September through June; for example, calendars such as four days out of five, nine days out of ten, year round schooling, four term, five term, or a combination of the above. In general, an Alternate School Year substantially restructures the learning/vacation time pattern available in the traditional year.
- 1.3 Instructional Days are days when programs are in session and students are expected to be in school. This includes days scheduled for Provincial Achievement Tests, Provincial Diploma Exams and School Exams.
- 1.4 Non-Instructional Days are days during which school based staff are expected to be at school. These include designated Division and School-Based Professional Development Days, Parent-Teacher-Student Interview Days (or those taken in lieu of evening interviews) and Staff-Only days before school starts and ends for students.
- 1.4 Operational Days are all Instructional Days plus Non-Instructional Days.
- 1.5 Board Declared Holidays are days designated by the Board to be Holidays. For example, the day of Christmas Eve (December 24th) has traditionally been a Board Declared Holiday.
- 1.6 Statutory Holidays are designated through Provincial and/or Federal Law.
- 1.7 Alternate Days are the days that are designated in a school's approved Alternate School Year Calendar that are neither Instructional Days or Operational Days. Neither students nor the school staff is expected to be at school.
