

Getting feedback on your assignments is very useful. In your course, this is easy to access.

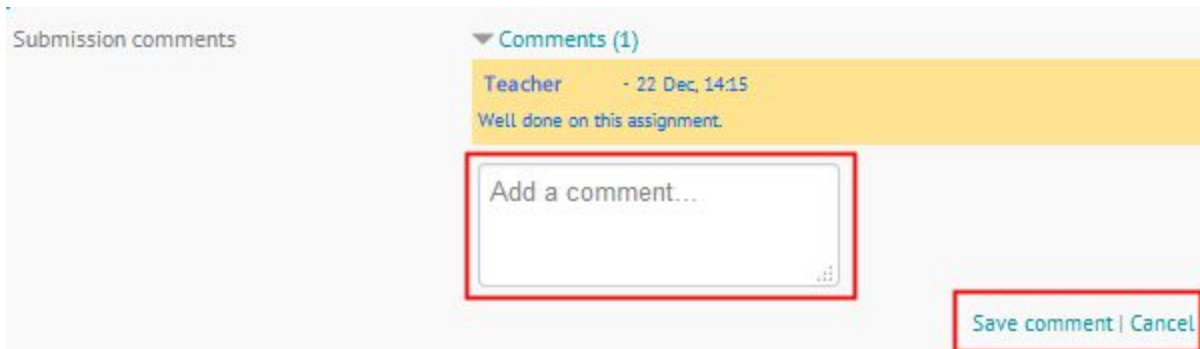

First, let's recall that when you initially submit an assignment that requires marking, its status will be Not graded. Please note, depending on the assignment, it may take several days for it to be graded.

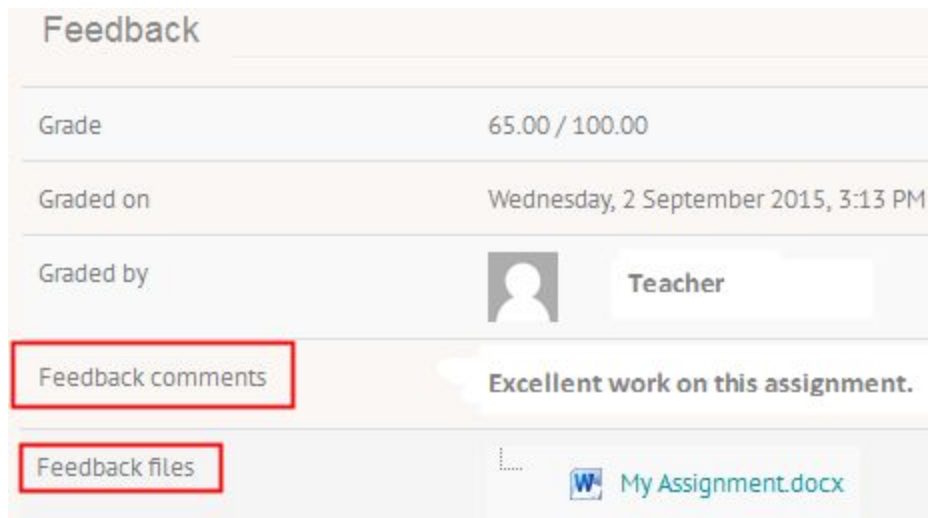

When a marker or teacher has graded your work, the status will change to Graded. At this point, there are several important things to look out for.

First you may notice comments about your submission. A teacher or marker may actually use this comment area before grading is complete. You can use it to leave comments as well.

The next important thing to check is the Feedback area. Here, at the top, you'll notice your grade on the assignment. There may also be comments left by a marker or teacher. There also may be feedback files; for example, in some cases this might be where your assignment with further comments is returned to you.
